

For my shopping cart page, I chose to display the cart items as list items and include details such product name, quantity and price. I also included another component to show the actual total amount including the sales tax. I tried to keep this page minimal as it has lots of information that the user needs to process. I also provided options in the cart items list so that the user can update their purchase choices without leaving the cart page.